Add new adventure to your life with a South Coast 22

Love of the sea is a natural heritage of man. Add to the fulfillment of that love, a new experience in living and learning. Add to the joy of a sailor's first landfall following the sun and stars . . . the excitement and fascination of visiting remote and romantic places beyond the reach of land-locked adventurers. Our South Coast 22 was developed to help you expand your family's horizons and make sailing a part of your life.

The South Coast 22 is a beautifully designed, quality built, affordable day sailer/cruiser. The wonderful versatility of this 22-foot retractable keel sloop makes her your camper home on the road and family cruiser on the water. She's easily trailed at normal highway speeds, so you can take advantage of remote lakes and waterways. Because her swing keel does not protrude below the hull, she's the most easily launched, beached and recovered trailable sailboat on the market . . . one of the most important considerations when purchasing a trailable boat.

Some of the options you may want to include to enhance your comfort are a dinette table, a galley with sink and water storage, and a portable head. Another available feature is our exclusive swing-up pop top, pioneered by South Coast, providing full standing head room in the cabin. The natural warmth of heavy-grained oiled teak trim complements the decorator-coordinated interior fabrics.

The deck is end-grained balsa sandwich/ fiberglass, as used in the finest ocean racers, with integral non-skid surfacing. All exterior trim, including hand rails and cabin hatch slides, are heavy-grained East Indian teak. Spars are anodized aluminum and standing rigging is stainless steel with swaged fittings and turnbuckles. The larger than average self-bailing cockpit is well designed for racing, family cruising or dock-side entertaining.

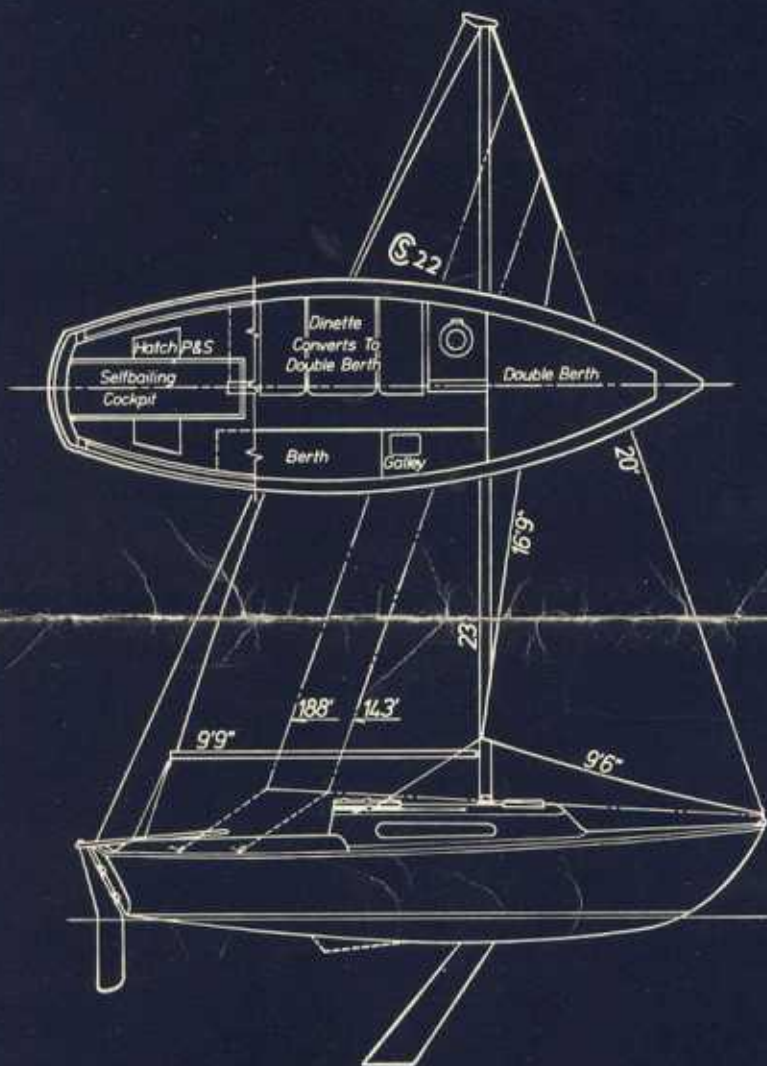

South Coast's use of the finest quality fiberglassing materials and strict quality control result in a finished product which endures the toughest beatings. South Coast's fifteen years of boat building experience and outstanding workmanship assure you and your family safety plus pleasurable sailing. Our South Coast 22 is a sparkling combination of sleek, sporty lines and responsive handling. She stands proudly apart from the crowd with poise and personality all her own! Make your own comparison. Your dealer will be happy to invite you aboard.
